Gentlemen:

In the current number of The American Historical Review, I note mention of an article by Curtis Nettels, entitled, " The Beginnings of Money in Connecticut " . We should be very glad to have a copy of this article for our library, and if you are not in a position to present a copy, will you kindly send the number of your Transactions containing this article, along with the bill to cover.

Very respectfully yours

Secretary.

My dear Mr Noe

Your letter of April 7 addressed to the Wisconsin Academy has been forwarded to me, and I take great pleasure in presenting you with the enclosed article on the beginnings of money in Connecticut, which I hope may prove to be of some use to you.

Sincerely yours
Curtis Nettels.

Dear Mr. Nettels:

Your note of April 27th is at hand, and we have also received the copy of your article " The Beginnings of Money in Connecticut " A hasty skimming through the pages, brings a realization that it is much better done than anything of the kind I can recall having seen. Thank you very much indeed. We are very glad to have this addition, to the all too few efforts to treat of money conditions in America.

Very truly yours,

Secretary.
